| School IT helpdesk staff who manage student IT tickets.                                                         | Limited time, multiple incoming tickets, and repetitive manual work.                                 | Manual classification. Pro: Staff can review ticket details. Con: Time-consuming and repetitive.         |
| Manual ticket classification takes time. This occurs whenever a new IT ticket is received.                      | Manual review is required to identify keywords and assign the correct category and subcategory.      | Staff review descriptions, identify issues, select categories, and route tickets for every new incident. |
| A student submits a new IT ticket such as a Wi-Fi issue, projector failure, password problem, or slow computer. | Use ServiceNow Flow Designer to identify keywords and automatically assign category and subcategory. | ONLINE : ServiceNow ticket form and Flow Designer.                                                       |
| Before: Manual classification feels repetitive. After: Automated classification makes the process easier.       |                                                                                                             | OFFLINE : Helpdesk communication with students.                                                          |
