

Customer Journey Map

Date	29 September 2026
Team ID	SWTID-2026-1162
Project Name	Auto-Ticket Classification using Flow Designer
Maximum Marks	2 Marks

Phase of Journey	Stage 1	Stage 2	Stage 3
Actions What does the customer do?	• Create IT support ticket • Enter issue details • Submit ticket	• Flow Designer is triggered • Short description is checked • Category and subcategory are assigned	• Receive email notification • IT team processes the ticket • Issue is resolved
Touchpoint What part of the service do they interact with?	• Ticket creation form • Short Description • Submit button	• Flow Designer • Category field • Subcategory field	• Email notification • IT support team • Ticket status
Customer Thought What is the customer thinking?	• I want to report my issue • I hope my ticket is created correctly • I want quick support	• My ticket should be classified correctly • The right category should be selected • My issue should reach the right team	• I want confirmation. • I expect my issue to be resolved. • I want timely support

Customer Feeling What is the customer feeling?	- Concerned - Hopeful - Expecting quick support	- Confident - Less worried - Satisfied	- Relieved - Satisfied - Appreciated
Process Ownership Who is in the lead on this?	Student / Teacher	Flow Designer / IT System	IT Support Team
Opportunities How can we improve this stage?	Make ticket creation simple and clear	Automate category and subcategory classification.	Send automatic notification and improve response time